

Dear FCC,I strongly oppose Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry program days before the election. It strikes me as a blatant violation of FCC regulations and a lame attempt to get around political campaign laws. It clearly flouts Sinclair's obligation to serve the public interest.

I don't understand how the FCC can issue record fines for "indecenty," and yet routinely renew licenses to groups like Sinclair that put their own narrow economic and political interests ahead of the American people's right -- as owners of the airwaves -- to have television broadcasts that foster genuine democratic participation in matters of public concern.

I strongly urge the FCC to prevent Sinclair from forcing its stations to broadcast "Stolen Honor," a partisan political advertisement masquerading as a documentary.

Sincerely,
Ralph Drayton
